

Visit Report: Spouse of Vice President of India to State Senior Citizens' Home, Department of Social Welfare, Tribal Affairs, Women & Child Development Department, Mizoram.

Date: 26.02.2024 (Monday)

On 26th February, 2024, Smt. Dr. Sudesh Dhankhar, the esteemed spouse of the Vice President of India graced the State Senior Citizens' Home, Ainawn Veng with a visit, marking a significant moment for the residents, staff of the facility and the Department. The event was also attended by members of the local council, Ainawn Veng.

The distinguished guest arrived at 10:50 am, greeted by Dr. Lalhriatzuali Ralte, IAS, Director of Social Welfare & Tribal Affairs, who delivered a warm welcome speech on behalf of the department. Tokens of appreciation, in the form of gifts, were presented to the Vice President's spouse, as well as to the two Personal Security Officers (PSOs) accompanying the guest. Additionally, the Home Welfare Officer extended a heartfelt gesture by presenting a gift on behalf of the State Senior Citizens' Home.

To ensure effective communication, an interpreter was engaged to facilitate interactions with the guest. The residents and staff of the home showcased their talents and hospitality through the presentation of traditional Christian song, adding a cultural touch to the visit. Furthermore, informational flyers about the Home were distributed among the guests, providing insight into the facility's mission, services and details of residents.

The Vice President's spouse personally gifted each of the nine residents with tokens of appreciation, fostering a sense of joy and connection within the home. This gesture of kindness undoubtedly left a lasting impression on both the recipients and witnesses of the visit.

Tour of the Home:

Following the engaging interactions and gift-giving ceremony, the esteemed guest embarked on a comprehensive tour of the State Senior Citizens' Home, gaining firsthand insight into the living conditions and daily routines of the residents. This tour not only showcased the facilities and amenities available but also provided an opportunity for meaningful engagement with the residents and staff.

Conclusion:

The visit of the Vice President's spouse to the State Senior Citizens' Home in Mizoram served as a poignant reminder of the importance of compassion, empathy, and community engagement. Through her gracious presence and thoughtful gestures, she uplifted the spirits of the residents. The esteemed guest departed at 11:15 am, leaving behind cherished memories and a sense of gratitude among all who were fortunate to be a part of this memorable occasion.

